They say Seeing is believing,
But I say sometimes a leap of faith
Is all in the world you have
You know looks can be deceiving,
Sometimes I hang by my fingernails
To the little bit of hope I have.

Chorus:
But if I never see a miracle,
If I never see the dead raised up,
If I never see the kingdom come,
I won't stop believing.

In time we will see Him coming,
But 'till then we'll keep
Our hands to the plow,
Seeking the face only faith can see,
I pray hoping for a future,
But I live in the firey furnace
Here and now, and I cry, Lord deliver me

(Chorus)

Every Sunset, every baby born,
Every soul You save,
They testify to the miracles
You do for us everyday

(Chorus)

But I want to see a miracle,
And I want to see the dead raised up,
And I want to see Your Kingdom come
And I'm still believing, I'm still believing
