(feat. Kim Sanders)

I honestly won't give you an apology you'd come to see that you'd disagree with my policy and in truth I saved you I saved you you'd fall so deep and my mountain's steep you can't brace yourself so I walk away, with not much to say cause I know myself and in truth i saved you i saved you i saved you nights of missing me there i saved you praying that it ain't fair I saved you hours of therapy I saved you from being hurt by me you'd give your best but it'd still be less and that makes no sense I'd have to leave and we'd have to grieve and there's no defense so in truth I saved you I saved you ...
