

Mother Tongue

"Crmb!"

Visit "Crmb!" on MotoLyrics.com

It was the evolution of a city
The concrete groaned savings and loans were overdrawn
Come On

Shield your eyes children the sun has come again
She's got big holes in her now and she's destined to Burn

All things have all things must all things will all Things have crumbled

The swans in the hotel pray for their life
As the vultures circle

Earthquake

Naw, it's the cars in the garage
It's the barage of the mirage of what you can see and

Can't have

After the fall out, I fell into you
You took me away, you took me away
You took me away

All things crumbled, the earth rumbled
We jumped in grinnin'
Who cares about dyin' man
Cause it's all about winnin'
And it ain't about survival
It's about how much you can sell
And there's so many customers down there
In the depths of hell

Visit Mother Tongue page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.