The moon is setting in the west today
Just like yesterday
But it don't seem the same

Without the smile that shines from your face
The world's a darker place
I wish I had you near me

You are the angel that I've dreamed before
Who call's herself a 5 cent whore
Who's lost and seeks redemption

I see the pain that lies behind your eyes
I wish I had you by my side
To tell you that I love you

Beyond the stars you sink beneath yourself
Safely out of reach of all the ghost's that haunt your

Mind
You fight the past that won't be left behind

Confusion's singing it's sadistic song
In unearthly tongues
In a whisper

Hide within the walls around your heart
The shelter of the dark is where you seek protection

Beyond the stars you sink beneath yourself
Safely out of reach of all the ghost that haunt your
Mind
Angel dust is what your demon's fight
A world away within your high
