"Nothing There"

I extended my hand, pulled you to the top,
I watched your sun rise, I stood by your side.
You took advantage, climbed for your fame,
Held up your flag, and pushed me away.
But I will not inflate your ego,
And I will not back your words.
I extended my hand, pulled you to the top,
I watched your sun rise, but I will not inflate your ego,

And I will not back your words.
Now you can't handle, lying on the ground,
But without us, where would you be?
Pushed through the ground, there's nothing there,
Pushed through the ground, there's nothing there,
Nothing... there
