Don't look at me Burn your
Disease where it stands
Shadoes of greed Fall on the King of everything Don't look at Me I'm not the one who left you
Alone drawing me in
Outside the lines are pulling
Me back in again Off with your
Head imaginations taking a toll
Again and all that you've said
Falls short of any meaning
Only I know the hidden lines
And know the meaning of it all
So let me go I've been here too
Long As it falls away from me

I know it's gone and all that's left
For me is to let go of what it
Mean to me I might be wrong
But it meant everything I know...
Put a gun up to your head
Although I know you fall it
Makes you dead although I
Know The further away the Better the day it makes
As it fall away from me I know
It's gone and all that's left for me
Is too let go of what it mean to Me I might be wrong
Better you than me I know...
