I'm blood
I'm flesh and bones
We are the energy that floods the memories
So hold on to lights and shapes
That will take your heart from clay
And mold it into anything you say

Slide to me
Your skin against my own,
Your flesh against my bones
And all I ever wanted to feel was connection
And all I ever wanted to feel was redemption

If you walk right through the door
You'll watch me fade away
Can't you feel it in your heart?

'Cause I'm blood
I'm flesh and bones
Someday the trees will sing,
A memory of you will always ring
So just hold my hand and never let me go
'Cause I'm scared
Yeah, I'm scared

Slide to me
Your skin against my own,
Your flesh against my bones
And all I ever wanted to feel was connection
And all I ever wanted to feel was redemption

(And I will dream of this)
I try my best, but it's never enough
What I'd do to get you into me
(And I will dream of this so free)

Are we dreaming this?
