"Fine"

Feeling blurred, worn and thin
My foundation seems unmade
In a step I could be blown away
Words are playing in my head
I've forgotten what you said
For a moment
Then I'm reminded

Despite the things I say I'm fine
I'm just so cynical at times
No need to wonder if I'm fine
I used to have no hope but now I'm really trying
And though I feel I can't go on sometimes

I should be happy and thank god
That I can live and I can breathe
And I can find the way and know that I'm fine

Moving closer standing still
Am I changing? am I the same?
Destination lost and found for me
Words colliding in my head
But I remember what you said
For the moment, I feel free
