The world's on fire, so wrap me in your napalm blanket
You and I are the king and queen of nothing, baby

Take my hand, take my hand
It's better now together, though it's only us
Take my hand, take my hand
We'll raise our glass, now there's nothing left.

Fall asleep, your burning eyes are incandescent
You and I must make a pledge to end existence
One more time, your eyes will see before they're sewn
shut
Suffering my name, boy don't you forget me.

Take my hand, take my hand
It's better now together, though it's only us
Take my hand, take my hand
We'll raise our glass, now there's nothing left.

Fall asleep, your burning eyes are incandescent
You and I must make a pledge to end existence
One more time, your eyes will see before they're sewn
shut
Suffering my name, boy don't you forget me.

Take my hand, take my hand
It's better now together, though it's only us
Take my hand, take my hand
We'll raise our glass, now there's nothing left.
