Summon Belteshazzar, I've had another dream Spanning across the sky a majestic tree
The birds and beasts were shaded and all of flesh was fed
By the massive tree in the visions of my head

There came a holy one from heaven and I heard him cry aloud
Strip the leaves, cut the branches, and chop the great tree down
Let the beasts leave, the birds fly
Leave the stump and roots in the ground

Tell me what this means

Belteshazzar, what say you?

Oh king if only the dream applied to your enemies
If only it's meaning to your adversaries
The tree that you saw, so vast and so strong Providing abundance and shelter for all

Oh king it is you! Your greatness has grown Your dominion extends 'cross the earth
But the Most High decrees against you my king You'll be driven away and you'll live with the beasts

Seven times will pass you by 'Til you know the Most High Is sovereign above kingdoms of men

Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for a royal dwelling by my mighty power and for the honor of my majesty?

The kingdom's departed from you Driven from men to the beasts of the field Completely soaked with the dew Hair grown like feathers and talon-like nails

Eating the grass like an ox Seven times pass over you Know that the Most High He rules Gives kingdoms of men to whomever he chooses

At the end of the time, I Nebuchadnezzar lifted my eyes to heaven and my understanding returned to me and I blessed the Most High and praised and honored Him who lives forever!

Sovereign over kingdoms of men
His dominion is eternal His kingdom generations it spans Commanding the armies of heaven

I praise and I honor, extol
The Almighty King of Heaven
Whose works are truth and His ways justice Able to put down the proud
