So diamond human, passing before
To pin my eyes on blue, your eyes

So diamond human, passing before
I run to write what blew away

I don't want to see you
Technically more than color
Take my eyes in light green
Blind

Colored days not in you
Not illumined faces
That are few or more than
Paint

So diamond human, passing before
To pin my eyes on blue, your eyes

So diamond human, passing before
I run to write what blew away
