You dont owe me anything. so stop thinking about it. yr heart is empty the floor is clean, and i wouldnt doubt it. when were togethor when were apart, it just seems like yr trying to control my heart, i would give you anything, it makes me sick just to say this to say anything. i cant believe that you showed up, right here for me to see, well im doing you a favor so, just sit there quietly. when were togethor when were apart, it just seems like yr trying to control my heart. i would give you anything it makes me sick just to say this to say anything. i shouldve gone, i shouldve gone, i still could go, but my memory says no. we couldve made you into something if only youd listened to me. when were togethor when were apart it just seems like yr trying to control my heart, i would give you anything it makes me sick just to say this to say anything.
