I won't forget the day when I faced my greatest fear
After finding out the news that You never wanna hear
And I knew right then everything was gonna change
And I wondered if my life would ever be the same

Your love is better than life
You are my joy in the fight
When I fall down, You pick me up
You won't stop holding on

When I am wondering why
You are my hope in the night
Thru every struggle I will find
Your love is better than life

Some days it's hard to explain
To my heart if You're here or a million miles away
But even in the depths of my doubt I'll always find There's a sterling silver lining in the clouds across my sky

Your love is better than life
You are my joy in the fight
When I fall down, You pick me up
You won't stop holding on

When I am wondering why
You are my hope in the night
Thru every struggle I will find
Your love is better than life

Life is a gift you freely gave
I will be healed, I will be saved

Your love is better than life
You are my joy in the fight
When I fall down, You pick me up
You won't stop holding on

When I am wondering why
You are my hope in the night

Thru every struggle I will find
Your love is better than life
