Monday morning put his feet on the floor,
Put on his clothes and walked out the door
Begins to wonder what he's doing it for,
He's thinking inside there's gotta be more
It's never easy when you're taking a chance,
And you don't know where to begin
But Tuesday morning put your feet on the floor,
Take a deep breath and run through the door

Open up, fall in love, this could be your chance
Go on now, embrace the innocence
Dreams are born, life is changed when you take a risk
Go on now, you were made for this
So just get lost in a moment

Feels like we're running just to get ahead,
But we grow up too fast for moments to last Nobody knows how many hours they have,
So live every day, don't throw them away
Every second is a beautiful chance for life to be discovered

Open up, fall in love, this could be your chance
Go on now, embrace the innocence
Dreams are born, life is changed when you take a risk
Go on now, you were made for this
So just get lost in a moment

Open up your heart, open up your eyes and take it in for the first time
Don't let go, don't run away, you will never be the same
So just get lost in a moment

Open up, fall in love, this could be your chance
Go on now, embrace the innocence
Dreams are born, life is changed when you take a risk
Go on now, you were made for this
So just get lost in a moment
