"Goodbye Everybody"

I've gotten used to feeling blue
Same old story, pretty sad but true
My hopes have faded through the years
Ended in sighs and all my lonely tears
Now I stand at the end of a cold, bitter road

So goodbye everybody, so long
It can't be right to feel so wrong
I'm going where the air is warm and clean
I'll be safe inside my dreams

All of my dreams have turned to dust
And there's nobody I can really trust
Wish there was somewhere I could rest
My tired mind is growing so distressed
Now my heart breaks again for a sad, final time

Goodbye everybody, so long
It can't be right to feel so wrong
Now I'm following the setting sun
Give my love to everyone
So Goodbye everybody, so long
It can't be right to feel so wrong
I'm going where the sky is blue and clear
A million miles away from here

I've gotten used to being blue
Same old story, pretty sad but true
My hopes have faded through the years
Ended in sighs and all my lonely tears
Now my heart breaks again for a sad, final time

Goodbye everybody, so long
It can't be right to feel so wrong
Now I'm following the setting sun
Give my love to everyone
