I thought I'd write it in a letter, as I'm too shy to say it to you

I guess I should've known better, but I don't know what else to do

I'm on my way, no turning back

So take me in your arms

And then we'll be right on track

I write these words to you, to tell you just what you mean to me

I hope you like these lines

Cause I love you even more than yesterday

And all I say to you is true, will you return to me

I'll wait and see cause all I need is you

Only you

You helped me through the stormiest weather

You're what I need to guide me through

Without you nothing else matters

You're something I look forward to

You make my day, no holding back

So take me in your arms

And then we'll be right on track

I write these words to you, to tell you just what you mean to me

I hope you like these lines

Cause I love you even more than yesterday

And all I say to you is true, will you return to me

I'll wait and see cause all I need is you

Only you

All I say to you is true

Because to me there is only you

You make my day no turning back

You make my day, no holding back

So take me in your arms

And then we'll be right on track

I write these words to you, to tell you just what you mean to me

I hope you like these lines
Cause I love you even more than yesterday
And all I say to you is true, will you return to me
I'll wait and see cause all I need is you
Only you

It's only you
It's only you
It's only you
