(Paula Moore)

Tears keep falling falling, my heart's calling, calling
But you've gone away.

I'll sail my little boat across the sea of tears.
One day, I'll find my way, when teardrops turn to
diamonds
And diamonds turn to light, diamonds to light.

Pack up my belongings, my treasures and my longings.
There's no reason to stay.

I'll sail my little boat across the sea of tears.
One day, I'll find my way, when teardrops turn to
diamonds
And diamonds turn to light, diamonds to light.

Leaving all my sorrow, sow the seeds of tomorrow
Where the swallows do play.

I'll leave my little boat on the sea of tears
The day I find my way, when teardrops turn to
diamonds
And diamonds turn to light, diamonds to light.
