Time trying to kill me off again today
It seems my own memory has faded
Since your name was all that ever came out of my mouth
But now it certainly is coming around
(Let go no time & don't take mine)

Well, Meeting this way just by accident
Reality tames my mind
Well, feeling the same just by accident
Words can't display what I see with my eyes & then
You build me a makeshift heart for you to break
Until the water fills the sink
To wash my hands of this accident, yeah

It's fine by me
Leaving clues to help me on my way
Finally remembering things forgotten casually
Now it reappears, breaking tens to fours
It certainly is coming around

[Indecipherable]

Well, meeting this way just by accident
Reality tames my mind
Well, Feeling the same just by accident
Words can't display what I see with my eyes & then
You build me a makeshift heart for you to break
Until the water fills the sink
To wash my hands from this accident, yeah
