I sold you out
I made amends
I made you trust in me again
We found our peace between the broken ends

You took the keys
You swallowed them
You said you'd never feel again
The lock you opened in oblivion

If you want me to wait
I'll wait
If you want me to break whatever needs to break
Line up your chains
If you want me to hear
I'll listen
To every word you say
Vera, it's been 3 years since the day

The fire rained down on your parade
You left us all and I can't help but feel a bit betrayed
Your wounds are singing and I distain
It's better off this way
3 years since the day

You made a pact
You dropped the act
You focused on what you could attract
The fight's uphill
They helped to separate
You dropped the cannon and struck the match
The blaze you could not soon detach
The burning bright you tried to imitate

If you want me to stay
I'll stay
If you want me to take you from this life you hate
I'll face the pain
If you want me to steer displaced
Hand me both your reins
Vera, it's been 3 years since the day

The fire rained down on your parade
You left us all and I can't help to feel a bit betrayed
Your wounds are singing and I distain
It's better off this way
3 years since the day

All the nights you used to fear
All the song you'll never hear
Since the day
All the days becoming clear
All the life you'll never be here

The fire rained down on your parade
Your wounds are singing and I distain

(The fire)
(The fire)
(If you want me to stay)
All the nights you used to fear
All the song you used to hear

It's better off this way
