Do you think that I can change?
All the stars that line the way in what we do?
Cause I do

Now they say that time will heal all the scars we build and memories we bruise
If they're true then it's time

Do you think the sky could stop from falling?
So we can have a day
Do you think the lost would mind recalling our love?
'Cause I will fight 'til the end for you
And I will save my last breath for you

Are you tired of all the tears
Am I the war that's raging on inside your head?
Cause I care

And you wait for time to heal
But I'm left choking on the little words you said
Where they true or just lies?

Do you think the sky could stop from falling?
So we can have a day
Do you think the lost would mind recalling our love?
'Cause I will fight 'til the end for you
And I will save my last breath for you

When you told me that you cared
I couldn't breathe I just stood there
All this time we've wasted
I know that this will never change
Until we're both out of this game
For now we'll live our separate lifes

And I will fight 'til the end for you
And I will save my last breath for you
And I will fight 'til the end for you
And I will save my last breath for you

Do you think the sky could stop from falling?

So we can have a day
Do you think the lost would mind recalling our love?
'Cause I will fight 'til the end for you
And I will save my last breath for you
For you
Yeah
