

Bitter Life Typecast, The "Assertion" unexplained sights whenever you're around this unfulfilled adjacent of moment comes around impulsive scenes shiver over and over again

i wonder if i can completely present myself to you i don't have any brilliant words to say

and affirmation denies everything i need to say take back everything like nothing's left for me why can't you feel the way i'm feeling now

could you even pretend that you want me?
