you closed your eyes
just to kill the conversaton it's raining forever i think i'll drown myself with my tears

why does it have to be like this so it doesn't mean anything to you so do you want to see loyalty are these tears not enough for you by the sound of your message i felt you meant goodbye the raining is never ending clutching my emotions remembering the moments passed

i thought it was okay my feelings unfolded right before my eyes what did your embraces mean did you mean it when you called my name my name
