Hey you, with your fist balled up tight against your brother,
Hey you, with a hate in your heart for another;
It's no surprise that you struggle inside
Playing tug-o-war with your stubborn pride,
Remember...

Chorus:

Hope has a way of breaking through walls
Bridging the gap between us all.
There isn't a problem to great or too small
No, no, no, hope has a way,
Hope has a way.

How come you throw words like stones against each other?
And how long before we begin to love one another?
I will learn from the mistakes we've made
That without forgiveness there is no change, but...

Chorus:

Bridge:

Let's not forget that what binds us is greater
Than anything that keeps us apart.
We're all the children of the same loving Father
Let us stand together, serving heart to heart.

Hope has a way of breaking through walls
Bridging the gap between us all.
There isn't a problem to great or too small
No, no, no, hope has a way,
Hope has a way,
Hope has a way.

Chorus (twice)
