There's murder in the streets from the wars of our countries for all of our women and children to see Their lives will go on like there is nothing wrong while the secrets of leaders of nations go on and on...

The sickness of the world has infected our dreams and our strengths and our faith and god-given beliefs But we cannot fight, what we cannot see we'll sit and we'll listen and try not to think...

Help me stop this, help me please
We're all dying, no one believes me

While children are dying and starving for food we're breathing in air that our cities pollute We'll search for the divine that our science disproves we're stuck here we're trapped left with nowhere to move...

But Clarity comes for the prices we'll pay while our logic and reason make consciences fade But certainly someone will rise up to save us we'll vote and elect, there's no one to change us...

Help me stop this, help me please
We're all dying, no one believes
Help me stop this, help me please
We're all dying, no one believes me

But no one believes me
But no one believes me
