jaws -- dripping with disease fingers for use of weaponry mind spins in fervor of murder's design unleashing our buried primal desires return to instincts we had lost our blades shall speak with eloquence what human words cannot terror -- a world of terror we create maddening howls fill the streets as further spreads the plague

gone -- the affinity to modern man wavering faith falls to ravenous hands unbridled malevolence reaches a boil as strivings of mankind dissolve into fire the will to conquer suffocates a trail of shredded carcasses, our morals dissipate now the end's drawing nearer upheaval is at hand animalistic biddings

a reverse evolution of man

[solo]

children -- we are the children of the beast instinct counters reasoning, our rage shall be unleashed

the dreams of man engulfed in fire this world a heap of burning flesh the end is baring down upon us the god of mortals lying dead
