Yeah I'm running off the rails
I've finally gone crazy
And the ground is spinning faster than my teeth could ever grind
I know it's a shame when success does complain
But I don't remember my name
In the absolute wrong I have made this place to lay my head
A reoccurring nightmare
I never trust I never rest
I've become another victim of this self-serving device
My cock does all the talking, my mouth now just for lie
I'm winding down to nothing
It's suddenly so clear
I'm winding down to nothing
A human smoke that fills the air
What can you believe?
That is the question
I have you on a string
Something yet up my sleeve
Bury me deep, as I have an unborn child
In a world yet so cold enough to host this seed of endless ugliness
In a sea of corruption, a wake of lie so wildly I have stirred
I'm winding down to nothing
It's suddenly so clear
I'm winding down to nothing
A human smoke that fills the air
What can you believe?
That is the question
I have you on a string
Something yet up my sleeve
My love is but a lie
Always reaping what I have sown
I'm taking you down with me
To degrees you'll never know
