Kings and sons of god
travel all their way to hear calming restless minds easing all of their, all of their fears

Strange Times
Are here

Statue in the square meant so much when it first stood people come from far and near bless them if, bless them if you would

Strange Times
Are here

Stay here to dry your tear
I will be the one to pull you through the mirror before you come, before you come undone

Are here
