Give away all that you have inside
Every last moment that you're alive until your body is cold
Sure, as he peels away your skin
You see the monster is intent to see this to end

It would be easier to die
Just easier sometimes
Because the light is a sober
Reminder of what he did
Your body can't get over it

Life has been keeping you awake
Asphyxiated by the hate and it never calms
Sew the aching in your veins
That no one ever seen with the blade in the sheets

It would be easier to die
Just easier sometimes
Because the light is a sober
Reminder of what he did
Your body can't get over it

It's over, it's over
Except the scars that last forever
It's over, it's over
Except the scars that last forever

It would be easier to die
Just easier sometimes
Because the light is a sober
Reminder of what he did
