In these last moments of life
Reminiscences of it are shattering
Every pale fragment
Is dimmed by a shining light
Nothing will remain
Except my name
I estrange my thoughts from all
Not to feel and cause anything
I am missing all the aspects of life
Now I can see my reflex in the unknown

I'm leaving the world
Pervaded by aeron visions
Of the inhabitants of the realm and beyond
Death is embracing me
And like an eclipse
Will cover my image
And vanish...
And so I will reach
The catharsis of my soul
Waiting for my next transmigratio
