Close your eyes, and pray to the lobotomized
A tiny enigmatic hole, unraveling a pristine life
Open your head, and take without uncertainty
Just reach in and tear away, your cerebral virginity

Gloryhole

Oblivious to what can be plainly seen Ignore what could disorganize the workings of your machine
I am here, to drill this in you To sodomize your piece of mind, destroying everything you do

Gloryhole

I did it for the glory
Try to stay focused, try not to deviate Stick to the straight and narrow, it's never failed you before 'til
Now, what you built, brick by brick with your own ignorance falls to
The ground, keep one thing, just one thing in mind at all times

There's one, reason, one motive, one reason

I did it for the glory
