im sitting here
thinking in my room
staring at the phone
hopeing you'll call soon

i'm lying
thinking, on my bed
with worries
floating around in my head

if only
words were easy to say
if only
i had spoken so you would've stayed

i look out of the window and into the sky
and I'm thinking
but it makes me cry

if only
words were easy to say
if only

im sitting waiting for you to call lying on my bed staring at nothing at all

if only
if only
i had spoken so you would've stayed
