passion emotion too concerned with looking like a fool action devotion sick of everybody acting cool every morning i wake up and realize i don't have anymore time to spend a second living the way someone said was right i want life i want it now i want it and i don't care how 'cause i need passion emotion a chance to make a difference in the world action devotion a vow to break every senseless rule you don't have to be concerned with those who might lead you down the wrong path warner brothers isn't the issue you're problem ain't the government i have seen the enemy he looks and awful lot like me so i need passion emotion no concern with looking like a fool action devotion a promise to break every singel rule i promise you i won't live a lie
