

Blackwater Prophecy

"A Call To Arms"

Visit "A Call To Arms" on MotoLyrics.com

Breathe into me some kindness and compassion
I've lost all humanity within me live aimlessly though blissful how I envy you and all your ignorance of what we live in give unto me some sympathy to feel for them the sheep and the wolves, the hunters and the hunted there is a reason for all that happens chaos destruction revolution of the silence

Trade in the silence for the violence
(Fight for what's right)
Trade in the silence for the violence
(Fight for your life)
Trade in the silence for the violence

Don't lay still fight them when they pillage you they rape the helpless you'd fall prey to all their demons recoil from your passiveness reflow the anger though it once was dormant it now resonates within you

Trade in the silence for the violence
(Fight for what's right)
Trade in the silence for the violence
(Fight for your life)
Trade in the silence for the violence

{Music}

Trade in the silence for the violence
(Fight for what's right)
Trade in the silence for the violence
(Fight for your life)
Trade in the silence for the violence

Breathe into me some kindness and compassion
I've lost all humanity within me

