we're never responsible we lie as much as possible pay no mind to politics don't bother us with logic risk and gamble others lives we'll spin the wheel and roll the dice break our backs to bend the truth the kids will pay the price we'll force them to play nice blameshifters blame believe all what we've been told we keep our faith incased in gold take our art as literal our last words are final

amoral, uncorrectable farmed like sheep and worked like whores it happens over time accept it and deny it
