I always felt that there was something
Complicated around you
The fact is it was nothing
I could see or much less I could believe
I always tried to be so fair
But the difference is you never really cared
So I guess I've always known that it was over
She's over me, yeah

(Why don't you care)
It's been so hard since you left me
But this body is thicker now, it's over
She's over me, yeah
It's been so hard since you left me
My body is thicker now, it's over
She's over me, yeah

I always felt that there was something
Hidden deep below
What I thought was nothing but a dismal day
But the day got away
Yeah, I never want you to mistake
That this blood it won't dry on me
So I guess I've always known that it was over
She's over me, yeah

(Why don't you care)
It's been so hard since you left me
But this body is thicker now, it's over
She's over me, yeah
It's been so hard since you left me
My body is thicker now, it's over
She's over me, yeah

(So why don't you care)

From the ashes of the love we burned
To the depths of the recess
When I'm alone, I can see so well
That the rest of my life
It seemed to drown so slow

It's been so hard since you left me
But this body is thicker now, it's over
She's over me, yeah
It's been so hard since you left me
My body is thicker now, it's over
She's over me, yeah

I'm so far
(She's over me, over me yeah)
I'm so far
(This body's thicker and she's over me over me yeah)
Away from me
