If you go right now, you will never see me again
If you choose to leave you'll never know what lies around the bend
If you pack your bags you will know what it means to cry
You'll really know how it feels to die
'Cause you'll miss out on the best thing in life

Missing out- missing out- on the best thing in life
Missing out- missing out- on the best thing in life

If you stop to think you may remember that it was just me
Who picked you up and prevented you from insanity
But I guess you don't care
You'd rather spend your time with a fool
I wish you luck with your golden rule
But you'll miss out on the best thing in life

Missing out- missing out- on the best thing in life
Missing out- missing out- on the best thing in life

You're a lady who wants something more than a man who knows the one thing that you need But I'm sure you'll give out when your heart starts to doubt and you'll wonder why he's not me!
He's not me!
You will see the best things in life are for free!

You're going to miss out
You're going to miss out
You'll never- never- never get me
