Try
Lose
Scare
Waste

I'm tryin' to find myself
Now I'm loosin' my distrust in what I've done
I've been so scared
I've been wasting all my time with all my fears

Everyday I try
When loneliness is killing
Every middle of the night
While all the people looking for the self-control react
When everything is not the main solution to be free
While life of every day is not complete
To find
Some people are just made to love and hate at the same time
Thinking it's only a question of trust
The way
Some people are just able to get harmony in the life
Thinking it's only a question of lies

I'm tryin' to find myself
Now I'm loosin' my distrust in what I've done
I've been so scared
I've been wasting all my time with all my fears

Here
If something looks incomplete
Now I know how to fix it What I've done is my past, I can't erase or regret so I don't mind it
I lived with the fear of the world all around myself
Now I know
I must believe
In what I do

Try again with me
Try again with me

Try again to realize the dreams that you will never make alone, girl
Try again with me
Try again with me
Try again with All that you can give and all that we can do
Nothing left to lose if we start living every night and everyday, girl
Nothing to decode or to understand

I'm tryin' to find myself
Now I'm loosin' my distrust in what I've done
I've been so scared
I've been wasting all my time with all my fears
Now I'm loosin' my distrust in what I've done
I've been so scared
I've been wasting all my time with all my fears

I'm tryin' to find myself
I've been so scared, I've been so scared, please help me, please help me
