I'll open up my wrists
To let you in
And keep you where
Where you belong

Nail my hands into the oak if I can never touch your face again
Cardiac paralysis
I cannot breathe
Swallow my tongue if I can't Say the words that will save your life

No matter what always remember you did this to me
I'm left with when you turned and walked away
No matter what always remember you did this to me
You've driven me to this
You've turned my heart jet black

Reopen the wounds and let them drain
Swing the sledge to the mainframe
To the one that stopped my heart
I must return the crush
Reopen the wounds and let them drain
Swing the sledge to the mainframe
To the one that stopped my heart
I must return the crush
I must return the crush
I must return the crush
I must return the crush
I must return the crush

Pull up the floorboards and expose the ghost of my first love
Pull up the floorboards and expose the ghost of my
first love
Pull up the floorboards and expose the ghost of my
first love
Pull up the floorboards and expose the ghost of my
first love
