"Holding On"

Visit "Holding On" on MotoLyrics.com

So afraid of the things I have done
Stop the race man I've already won
Felt your spite like a stab in the back
Never thought I'd succumb to that

Hope will set us free again
Dreams will carry on my friend
Don't let the bastards bring us down
This destiny is what we've found

Holding on to all you ever know
Blinded by your fear and you forget to show
I won't let you bring me down

And why should I care about the things that I say
A dead end street is what your future has paved
You've got yours and I got mine
You'll meet your fate
It's a matter of time

Heart will lead the way I choose
And in the end I bet you lose
Cool to my face, but talk behind my back
In a matter of time you're gonna get it
That's a fact
