Restart...restart...restart

I gotta ask, can this be fixed or are we to far gone?
How did we ever come to this?
I know these times are hard but if it wasnt real how did we ever get this far

If were gunna tell the truth then there's somethin I gotta say to you

You need to know about the way you made me feel yesterday and I'm writing your name on the wall, when we had it all. This is a time and place everyone's the same face, you and I we need to restart or finish falling apart

Restart and restart or fix this broken heart

Can we get through this thick or thin? Are we meant to lose never to win? I believe things will be what theyll be.
This will all pass just you wait and see

If were gunna tell the truth then theres somethin I gotta say to you

yesterday and I'm writing your name on the wall, when
apart

We need to repair we need to fix what's here

yesterday and I'm writing your name on the wall, when
apart

Restart and restart or fix this broken heart
