Hello how are you feeling when your cell phone isn't ringing I thought you always had my back What the hell would ever make me think that

On a cloudy day
You let me rust
You burned your bridges
There all burnt up
You came back to blow me away
into the flood
You let me rust

Left me with this bitter taste
Why would you lie right to my face Hope your happy with your decision Your life's new path a new direction

On a cloudy day
You let me rust
You burned your bridges
There all burnt up
You came back
to blow me away
into the flood
You let me rust

Tell me how do you sleep at night Holding your pillow so tight does this bother you like it bothers me all i needed to hear was Im sorry

On a cloudy day
You let me rust
You burned your bridges
There all burnt up
You came back
to blow me away
into the flood
You let me rust

You let me rust
You let me rust
