Do you see me?
Do you want to pick apart every part of me?
Are you wondering what there will be?
Do you want to stick around to see what you'll find?
Do you want to know everything that enters in moves around and comes out slowly carefully, makes it real

Tell me would you put your faith
Would you put your faith in something magical
Tell me would you put your faith

Understand me
Do you want to analyze every part of me
Are frightened of what may be
Do you want to stick around to see what you'll find
Do you want to hear everything that in enters in moves around and comes out slowly
Cautiously, makes it real

Tell me would you put your faith...

Do you want to hate me
Do you want to love me
Do you want to feel like your above me
Make me feel like you're not thinking of me
Do you want to kiss me
Do you want to hold me
Do you want to feel you can control me
Make me feel like you need to console me
