"One Planet, One People, Please"

Strong is the light of unity
It can light the world for you and for me
So why don't we reach out and be one planet
One people, please?

One planet, one people, please
One planet, one people, please
Please let it be, please let it be, ah

Storm clouds are comin' I can see it all
The old world is dyin', it must crumble and fall
And from every nation I can hear the call
One planet, one people, please

One planet, one people, please
One planet, one people, please

There's never been a people on this earth like us
Who stand to gain or prosper, or lose so much
If we just reach out so our hearts can touch
One planet, one people, please

One planet, one people, please
One planet, one people, please
Please let it be, please let it be, ah
