

Seals And Crofts "Purple Hand"

Visit "Purple Hand" on MotoLyrics.com

It came in early morning, an ordinary day
When all the sleepy citizens were on their merry way
No mortal eye, no voice, no ear escaped the destined plan
When all of us together had to face the purple hand

Let them be, don't bother, let them be
It's too early for them to see
Let them go, don't bother, let them go
Come tomorrow, they will know

First there was an ocean and ordinary street
Then suddenly a mountain began to show its peak Remember back unto the day when twenty thousand taught
This is it get off your knees, look what your hands have wrought

Let them be, don't bother, let them be
It's too early for them to see
Let them go, don't bother, let them go
Come tomorrow, they will know

Visit Seals And Crofts page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.