

Seals And Crofts "Sweet Green Fields"

Lookin' up the sleeve of confidence, I jump down from the fence

Been a long time since I've felt this way, let the feeling stay

Reaching for the arms of love, livin', dreamin', thinkin' of

The moment I slip on the glove, my fear is gone
The grain of hope has grown

Starin' at the face of happiness, this time it answers yes

In aging peace my doubts will rest away, let the feeling

Looking through the eyes of truth, I see faith and love and youth

And all else dries up like the dew, my fear is gone
The grain of hope has grown

And I'll be running, laughing

Playing in the sweet green fields of belonging to someone

The distant feeling's gone and I can make it from now on

My world has something new, it's all because of you
The sweet green fields growing in my life will never die

Lookin' up the sleeve of confidence, I jump down from
the fence

Walking up the road of togetherness, this time I must confess

This day's the very best, my fear is gone
The grain of hope has grown

Playing in the sweet green fields of belonging to someone

Now I'll be running, laughing

Playing in the sweet green fields of belonging to someone

Well I'll be running, laughing Playing in the sweet green fields of belonging to someone
