If I needed you so desperately
To come to me and talk to me
To take my heart and hand into your comfort zone
Where I'm not alone or lonely
Well would you take the time to be my friend Cause in the end that's all there is There's love the eternal bond between us
Would you be there

When the lights are down low and I'm feeling insecure
With this bed so big and cold only memories to hold It's your voice I need to hear to help me overcome this fear
I need your hand to help my heart from sinking into this quicksand of love

If I told you that I couldn't bear to be alone
Would you be there
And if I said I need your heart to be my home
Would you let me stay there

Would you be there for me
Can't you see
I need you and you need me tonight
Close you eyes
Realize
I've got so much love to give to you
