You're taking me on another trip
I've lost control
better get my grip

I've seen this face before and it's not pretty
I try so hard but you break my hands
You corner me and I'm running scared
I've seen it all before but it won't stop me

I'm getting in my car
I've got this angel in my pocket
Hold on, I'm driving in my sleep

Strung out on chemicals and caffeine
Guardian, you were watching over me
And building up my confidence
I never thought you'd follow me
I'm forgetting what I've learned

I need some place to rest my bones
My head is heavy and my eyes are closed
I stumble towards the door as I drop my keys
It's getting late, gotta get back home
Get away from me, I'm on my own
Cause I'm old enough to drink

And drive my car I've got this angel in my pocket Hold on
Thank God I'm in one piece

Strung out on chemicals and caffeine
Guardian, you were watching over me
And building up my confidence
I never thought you'd follow me
I'm forgetting what I've learned

Strung out on chemicals and caffeine
Guardian, you were watching over me
And building up my confidence

I never thought you'd follow me
I'm forgetting what I've learned

'Cause I believe...

I'm old enough to drink

Guardian you were watching over me...
