Lucky you you've got his song and it's all about you
Lucky you you've got his song and it's all about you

chose you
chose you

But I can't hate ya it ain't your fault
He was my baby he saved me don't you know
He was all I ever knew of love

Lucky me we both agreed on the same man
Lucky you and the arms you fell into, taking cos' you can

But I can't hate ya it ain't your fault
He was my baby he saved me don't you know
He was all I ever knew of love

First there was one and then there were two
First there was one and then there were two mama
But he chose you, he chose you, he chose you
First there was one and then there were two,
But he chose you.
