

Nicole Vaughn

"Stuck On You"

Visit "Stuck On You" on MotoLyrics.com

Can't stop thinking reminiscing about the things that've come to pass
You are no longer my love you lost all rights for me to call you got
But I've got plenty of other names for you

We're tangled in a web of messy break-ups where do we start where do we end?
Been in a number of sticky situations but with you I am defenseless
And I'm stuck, I'm stuck on you

Cos' every time I see you I feel like crying
And every time I see you I feel alive again
I feel alive again

Seems like my stomachs always dropping first we're up and then we're done
This ain't some bipolar operation I just want you to stick around
And close those wandering eyes

Cos' every time I see you I feel like crying
And every time I see you I feel alive again
I feel alive again

And I know that you feel the same
With each passing day grows distance and pain
To lose you again would be a shame
And you still love me
At least that's what you claim

Cos' every time I see you I feel alive
So can't we give this one more try?
I just can't bear the thought of saying goodbye
When all I think about is you and I
You and I

Visit Nicole Vaughn page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
