Waiting for the flower to bloom
Convinced yourself it was too soon
Cos' you're scared

Fair skinned one
She's too young
With eyes of blue that pierce and stare

Let me into your house
Show you just what I am all about
Cos' I am not a little girl no more
Let me show ya what God made a woman for

She's waitin' on your front porch steps
Are you gonna be
Man enough to let her in?

Don't hide behind some silly lie
She's a grown woman tonight

Let me into your house
Show you just what I am all about
Cos' I am not a little girl no more

Let me into your house
Let me place my lips upon your mouth
Cos I just can't wait anymore
Let me show you what God made your woman for.
